This can be easily rectified with the hard non pick filler that is supplied to the caretakers and will be done ASAP. No other action is required.

Rear walls of both M6 and V1 still have not had final restoration of surface completed, has been outstanding for over three weeks.	The cells M6 and V1 have been finished - they have just used a different type of paint so it does not have the flecked affect. We have decided that all eventually will have this type of paint but it is not a priority at the moment. Red Suits - these are used and then sent off for laundry weekly. These will then be returned washed the following week. We do have a limited supply and the amount available depends on how many have been used that week and how many we are waiting to be returned from the laundry.

Can we have confirmation of its assessment please? Delay in entry resulting from a detained person who was potentially, violent suicidal being escorted from Custody suite to hospital. Safety assessment by Custody staff meant our waiting (for which we are grateful!)	Our caretakers have been going around filling in the areas that are identified as ligature points. Boston Police Station, the entire cell call system had to be replaced as the original became defective and was obsolete. It was replaced with a system that has been approved by the Home Office. The call plates in the cells are designed to be flush mounted They were filled around any variations in surface finish with hard setting non pick able epoxy resin, as is normal practise. There are no ligature points on these fittings. I have no issues with the alleged quality of finish. It was inspected by myself (Ray Nicholson) and Inspector Forrest on Friday 18th September 2009, prior to the custody facility being reopened. Inspector Forrest: I have revisited all the cells again with Sgt Warren WILLIAMS and we both agree that there is no ligature point on these cell call buttons. We agree that they are not the most tidy of fittings but that is not my real concern

Examined and 25 cigarette end seen. Custody suite not up to the usual standard. Surgeons room thick dust on inspection lamp and ledges, used gloves in sink. Intoxicating machine room, waste bin lid thick with dust and used mouth pieces on the floor. Kitchen cupboards below work surfaces containing milk cartons are filthy.  The station cleanliness has deteriorated immensely recently.  Detainees well cared for with no complaints. Custody staff very helpful and polite.	The cleaners should do a high level clean on a regular basis (monthly) in the doctor's room. Problem highlighted to cleaners.  However, it is not part of the cleaning spec for the cleaners to clean inside cutlery drawers or kitchen cupboards etc. It will be arranged for a one-off variation to have the cupboards and drawers cleaned in the custody kitchen.
